California Society Woman Who Was Here On Honeymoon Voyage

Mrs. Lee L. Gray, the former Mrs. Marie Butters Metcalf, who has been in Honolulu on honeymoon. The Grays sailed on the Great Northern Tuesday, but hope to return.

Arriving with the Great Northern a few days ago were Mr. and Mrs. Lee L. Gray, who were married in Monterey on March 23. The couple intend to spend their honeymoon of three weeks in the city. The nuptials took place at the magnificent Gray residence at Pebble Beach, skirting the shore of Carmel Bay.

Only the relatives and intimate friends of the bride and bridegroom, all well known in Peninsula and San Francisco social circles, were present. The mansion was wonderfully decorated, palms and pink fruit blossoms being utilized lavishly to lend a springlike effect to the interior.

Former Miss Marie Butters. Mrs. Gray was the daughter-in-law of former Secretary of the Navy Metcalf and was formerly Miss Marie Butters, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Butters of San Francisco. The bridegroom is a San Francisco capitalist and has long been identified with the raisin industry at Fresno.

The ceremony was performed at 3 o'clock by Joseph A. Bardin, Judge of the superior court of Monterey county. J. Paulding Edwards of San Francisco and Los Angeles gave the bride away. The couple stood in the center of the large living room.

The bride was attired in a gown of cloth of silver and white lace, with a touch of pale blue silk encircling the waist. She carried a bouquet of orchids and wore a large transparent picture hat. In place of the usual golden circlet the wedding ring was a circlet of diamonds set in platinum.

George Ahlborn, are going soon for a three months' auto tour of California. They leave next week, much to the regret of a large circle of friends.

Mrs. C. E. A. Anderson (nee Anna Rose) of Honolulu will return to this city for a visit after an absence of four years. She comes on the Wilhelm and will visit for an indefinite time with her family here and on Maui and Hawaii.

A birthday party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Duncan, 1222 Peterson street, last Wednesday evening, the affair being held in honor of their daughter, Olive. Dancing, games, music and other novelties were enjoyed by the guests.

Mrs. John Mather entertained six tables of auction bridge on Tuesday of this week at her Fort Kamehameha home. Mrs. Frank W. Coe was awarded the first prize for highest score, a Canton vase. Mrs. Clifford Jones was given the second gift, a nest of Canton rose jars.

Dr. and Mrs. George B. Tuttle are enjoying life on the other side of the island. Dr. Tuttle has been Libby, McNeill & Libby physician since his resigning from the army medical service. They are in town this week to do honor to Miss Leonora McGowan, a friend of many years.

Mrs. C. A. Reynolds of Lunalihi Terrace gave a dinner party Tuesday night in honor of Mrs. Ben Seelig, who left for the coast on the last Matsonia. Mrs. Seelig is going to the coast for her health and expects to be gone about four or five months. The dinner table was very prettily decorated with violets. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Seelig, Mr. W. L. Marshall, Mrs. C. M. Eymann, Mr. Krussman and Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds.

Mrs. Pelham Glassford, Lieut. and Mrs. Swift Martin, Lieut. and Mrs. Earnest Cullum, Mrs. Charles Naylor, Capt. and Mrs. Edward Carey, Capt. and Mrs. C. G. Hall, Mrs. W. H. McGill, Lieut. and Mrs. Jerome Pillow and Lieut. and Mrs. Robert Cheney.

On Sunday, March 26, Gen. and Mrs. Frederick Strong entertained at luncheon for Mr. and Mrs. Day and Mr. and Mrs. Farwell of Chicago, who are staying at the Moana, and Col. and Mrs. Samuel L. Faison.

On Wednesday evening last Col. and Mrs. S. L. Faison entertained at dinner for Gen. and Mrs. Frederick Strong, Mrs. Flower, Miss Babcock, Miss O'Neill, Col. Carl Reichmann, Capt. and Mrs. Hugh Wise and Lieuts. Oswald Saunders and Wallace Philson. After dinner the party motored to the artillery post to attend the hop in the new pavilion.

Col. S. D. Sturgis was a dinner host on Friday last, when he had as guests Col. and Mrs. S. L. Faison, Maj. T. N. Horn and Lieut. and Mrs. Louie A. Beard.

Maj. and Mrs. Frank K. Albright entertained with a delightful dinner on the evening of Saturday, April 1. Covers for 12 were placed around a table attractive in its dainty appointments, a color scheme of lavender and pink being used, visible in the centerpiece of violets and Cecil Bruner roses and pink candle shades. Present were Gen. and Mrs. John P. Wisner, Gen. and Mrs. Frederick Strong, Col. and Mrs. S. L. Faison, Col. and Mrs. George G. Bailey, Miss Martin, Col. Carl Reichmann and Maj. and Mrs. Albright.

On Tuesday evening of this week a charming dinner took place at the Moana hotel, which was given by Mr. and Mrs. Harris of New York, who are sojourning in Honolulu for a time. Their guests were Col. and Mrs. S. L. Faison, Lieut. and Mrs. Walter Frank of the 25th Infantry, Lieut. and Mrs. Thomas Crystal of the 2d Infantry, Lieut. and Mrs. Louie A. Beard of the 1st Field Artillery, and Mrs. McDowell, daughter of the hostess.

On Wednesday evening there were a number of attractive dinners given preceding the weekly hop in the new pavilion of the cavalry-artillery cantonment. This was the third hop given since its opening and all have proved delightful occasions, the high ground upon which the pavilion stands giving it the advantage of coolness, and the spacious floor space admitting a large number of dancers without crowding. On this evening a very jolly "house warming" occurred, taking the form of a dinner, Lieuts. George Keleher and Alfred Sawkins being the hosts, entertaining for the first time in their new quarters. Covers for seven were placed around the round table, which was attractively decorated in red, dark red nasturtiums in a low bowl making an effective centerpiece, the tints of which were reflected in the shaded candles, while, carrying out the color note, the place cards were in the form of rickshaws carrying red-robed ladies. Present were Lieut. and Mrs. Robert Harbold, Miss Hazel Haynes, Capt. and Mrs. Pelham Glassford, Lieut. Sawkins and Keleher.

Maj. William Guignard gave a dinner for 10 on Wednesday evening, his guests later attending the hop. Present were Capt. and Mrs. Joseph Janda, Miss Esthelle McIntyre, Lieut. and Mrs. John D. Burnett and the host. The color scheme of the attractively appointed table was white throughout, a centerpiece of white flowers, around which were grouped white shaded candles made a pleasing effect.

Lieut. and Mrs. W. E. Shedd gave a lovely dinner on Wednesday evening when they entertained for 10 guests. A dainty color scheme of green, pink and white was carried out in all the attractive accessories of the two tables, at which the guests were seated. An effective centerpiece of fluffy white chrysanthemums ornamented one table, while on the other was a graceful arrangement of Shasta daisies and ferns. The candles being green, pink and white tints carried out the color note, which was further reflected in the shaded candelabra of pink tints on each table, and the attractive place favors at the ladies' covers, which were pin cushions made of satin ribbon in the several colors of the decorative scheme. The guests were Gen. and Mrs. Frederick Strong, Col. and Mrs. S. L. Faison, Col. and Mrs. Frank Keefe, Lieut. and Mrs. William Gano and Lieut. and Mrs. William McCleave.

On Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Karl Truesdell entertained with a two-table bridge, at which were present Mesdames William S. Sinclair, Charles Daly, Ellen Jordan, Frank Albright, Walter Frank, and the Misses Louise Coleman and Martin. The prizes were dainty guests' towels embroidered by the clever hostess. These were won by Mrs. Sinclair and Mrs. Frank.

Lieut. and Mrs. Karl Truesdell were dinner hosts on Thursday, when they entertained for Capt. and Mrs. William S. Sinclair, Lieut. and Mrs. Charles Wyman, and Lieut. and Mrs. Richard Taylor.

Mrs. Clyde B. Crusan was hostess on Monday afternoon of this week for the Musical Club, which enjoyed a delightful program of vocal and instrumental music.

Gen. and Mrs. Strong's dinner-guests on Tuesday were Lieut. and Mrs. William Gano and Lieut. and Mrs. Livingston Watrous. During the dinner the 1st Infantry band was daughter, Constance, will be home-bound passengers on the Logar on Tuesday, when they will go to Mrs. Gano's home in Pennsylvania, and await Lieut. Gano's return from Hawaiian service.

Capt. and Mrs. William Mayes formerly of the 25th, will also leave on that transport, Capt. Mayes having been detained in Honolulu on account of court-martial duty.

On Friday evening, before the bi-monthly hop in the 25th Post, Lieut. and Mrs. Livingston Watrous entertained with a dinner for nine. Pink sweet-peas in a dainty bowl made a dainty centerpiece, while the pink shades on the candles shed a soft and pleasing light. Covers were placed for Maj. and Mrs. Guy G. Palmer, Miss Dorothy Palmer, Capt. Alexander Macnab, Lieut. Ivens Jones and Lieut. and Mrs. Watrous.

On the same evening, Col. and Mrs. S. L. Faison had an informal dinner for Lieut. and Mrs. William Gano and Lieut. and Mrs. Walter Frank.

Capt. and Mrs. Hugh Wise entertained on Friday at dinner for Miss Babcock and Lieut. Wallace Philson. Miss Babcock is the week-end guest of Lieut. and Mrs. Walter Frank.

Lieut. and Mrs. Donald Hay were hosts at supper on Friday night, their guests later going to the hop in the club. Present were Maj. and Mrs. Frank Albright, Col. Carl Reichmann, Lieut. and Mrs. George Harrison, Lieut. and Mrs. Robert Harbold, Lieut. and Mrs. Karl Truesdell, Lieut. and Mrs. Richard Taylor, Lieut. and Mrs. Charles Rich, Lieut. and Mrs. W. E. Shedd, Capt. James Loud, Mr. Eames and Lieuts. Robert Snow and Carl Ballinger.

Another attractive dinner of Friday night was the one given by Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Bliss, when they had as guests Lieut. and Mrs. Charles Wyman, and Lieut. and Mrs. Kerr T. Riggs.

Lieuts. Alfred Sawkins and George Keleher were dinner hosts on Friday, entertaining before the hop for Capt. and Mrs. William Mayes, Miss Hortense Short, Maj. and Mrs. Merrill Johnson, Miss Besse Jones and Lieut. Ballais Lyerly.

Thursday evening Capt. and Mrs. Chalmers Hall and Capt. and Mrs. John J. Boniface motored in to Pearl Harbor naval station to the dinner given by Admiral and Mrs. Boush. The large round table made a lovely picture in its setting of American Beauty roses. A bowl of those flowers marked the table's center, while placed about it were slender vases, each holding one or two of the graceful roses. The places were marked by cards painted by the clever hand of Miss Boush. Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. Case Deering, Mr. and Mrs. Hart of the Naval Station, Mr. Burrell, Capt. and Mrs. Boniface, Capt. and Mrs. Boniface, Capt. and Mrs. Hall, Miss Geraldine Boush, and Admiral and Mrs. Boush.

Lieut. and Mrs. Howell Estes gave a pretty dinner on Monday evening, entertaining for Capt. and Mrs. Lucius Holbrook, Capt. and Mrs. Chalmers Hall, and Capt. and Mrs. John Boniface. The tables' decorations were distinguished by an artistic Japanese note, the centerpiece being a white pottery bowl, with sweet pea blossoms arranged in an Oriental manner, the place cards reflecting the Japanese effect.

Quite a valuable mandarin coat has been left somewhere in the garrison, the owner being Mrs. John Boniface. The coat is of navy blue silk, embroidered in tones of blue.

Mrs. Ernest G. Cullum was hostess for the Reading and Current Events Club on Thursday morning, giving a reading of the week's events in a series of well-selected articles.

On Saturday last Lieut. and Mrs. Harold Vandever entertained at dinner for Lieut. and Mrs. William McCleave and Lieut. and Mrs. W. E. Shedd.

Dr. and Miss Hazel Haynes were hosts on Tuesday evening of this week, giving an informal and enjoyable dance in their quarters. The music was furnished by a Hawaiian orchestra and at the close of the evening light refreshments were served. Those present were the Misses Louise Coleman, Victoria Pick and Hazel Haynes, Dr. and Mrs. Torrance, Lieut. and Mrs. Harold Vandever, and Lieut. Clift Andrus, Frederick Stewart, Bertram Frankenberg, Ballard Lyerly and George Keleher.

On Friday evening the monthly hop given at Fort Kamehameha took place, Capt. and Mrs. Clifford Jones entertaining at dinner before hand. Col. and Mrs. Frank Keefe motored in from Schofield to be present at the dinner.

Lieut. and Mrs. James Chaney will entertain with a tea dance on Saturday afternoon, which will take place in the Twenty-fifth Club. A large number of garrison people have been invited.

Wednesday evening Lieut. and Mrs. John Hauser gave a dinner for Col. S. D. Sturgis, Capt. and Mrs. Raymond Pratt, Capt. and Mrs. Dennis Currie, and Lieut. Frederick Stewart.

Lieut. and Mrs. Charles Wyman gave a dinner on Thursday for Col. and Mrs. S. L. Faison, Maj. and Mrs. Guy G. Palmer, and Capt. and Mrs. Hugh Wise.

Last Saturday evening Lieut. and Mrs. George Harrison entertained at dinner for Maj. and Mrs. Vernon Caldwell and Miss Redway.
